load up v. 装载货物/Volvo Cars, or Volvo Personvagnar, is a well-known Swedish automobile maker founded in 1927 in the city of Gothenburg in Sweden. Volvo was formed as a subsidiary company(n. 子公司) to the ball bearing(n. 球轴承) maker SKF. It was not until 1935 when Volvo AB was introduced on the Swedish stock exchange that SKF sold most of the shares in the company. Volvo Cars was owned by AB Volvo until 1999, when it was acquired by the Ford Motor Company and placed in its Premier Automotive Group. Volvo is a premium manufacturer and produces luxury models ranging from SUVs, wagons, and sedans to compact executive sedans and coupes. With 2,500 dealerships(n. 代理商) worldwide in 100 markets; 60 percent of sales come from Europe, 30 percent from North America, and the other 10 percent is from the rest of the world. Volvo cars have a reputation for comfort, solidity(n. 可靠性), safety and longevity. Older models were often compared to tractors(n. 拖拉机), partially because Volvo AB was and still is a manufacturer of heavy equipment, earlier Bolinder-Munktell, now Volvo Construction Equipment. Considered by some to be slow and heavy, they earned the distinction "brick" as term of endearment for the classic, block-shaped Volvo. With the more powerful turbo charged variants known as "turbobricks". More recent models have moved away from the boxy (adj. 矮胖的) styles avored in the 1970s and 1980s and built a reputation for sporting performance. But not before the phenomenal success of factory supported Volvo 240 turbos winning both the 1985 European Touring Car Championship (ETC) & 1986 Australian Touring Car Championship (ATCC). Most recently a 850 series wagon won top honors at the 1995 British Touring Car Championship (BTCC). Historically brand loyalty is significantly higher among Volvo owners versus other automobile manufacturers. Owners are often proud of achieving prodigious (adj. 巨大的) mileages (n. 英里数) with one well documented 1965 Volvo P1800S having been driven over 2.6 million miles. According to some figures the average age of a Volvo being discarded is second only to Mercedes at 19.8 years. Reliability (n. 可靠性) is considered better than average and in the USA Volvo dealers are listed by Forbes [财富(福布斯)杂志] as one of the best among all car makers (9th) and luxury car makers (6th).

A usually white, middle-classed woman. She drives an SUV. Her kids are her "little angels" and are more important than anything or anyone else in the world and deserve to play game demos or do anything else more than everyone. She doesn't let her "little angels" watch TV with "naughty words" such as crap, pussywillow, and pants. Her kids aren't allowed to go on the internet because it's all about sex, raping little children, buying useless crap, and getting scammed (<俚> 欺骗). She strictly enforces the ESRB ratings systems; by that I mean makes up her own: EC = 10 and under, E = 11 and up, T and above = "Not in my house" (Movies: PG and under = Only movies you can see). Anything that doesn't say they're Christian is automatically Satanic (adj. 恶魔的); this includes 99.998% of music. Her children participate in as many after-school activities as possible and are usually at day camp during the summer. Soccer moms are usually seen screaming (v. 尖叫) at people, getting into car accidents, and breaking copies of Grand Theft Auto: Vice City and refusing to pay for them.

Phoebe: They are awfully boxy.

boxy adj. 四四方方的

Ross: People like me like stability and security. You don't. And that's what's so incredible about you. You got this wild and crazy life. I mean I don't know...you'd be so bored with marriage. I mean it's so...normal.

stability n. 稳定性

Phoebe: Uh huh.

(Chandler, Monica, Joey and Rachel are carrying a couch through the door)

Ross: Hey hey, can I help?

Chandler: Well! We climbed up four flights of stairs, maneuvered a narrow hallway, dodged a rabid pit bull...but these last three feet are where it gets REALLY tricky.

climb up v. 爬上/flight n. 楼梯的一段/dodge v. 避开/rabid adj. 患有狂犬病的/Pit bull is a term commonly used to describe several types of dogs with similar physical characteristics(n. 特征). Its use in media is often vague and rarely descriptive(adj. 描述的) of specific breeds. There are several physically similar breeds that are often termed "pit bull", including the American Pit Bull Terrier, American Staffordshire Terrier, the Staffordshire Bull Terrier(<动>一种敏捷的小狗), the Bull Terrier, the Perro de Presa Canario, Cane Corso, and Argentine Dogos. These breeds are usually not included by name in any Breed Specific Legislation, but are sometimes included because of a broad definition and confusion as to what a pit bull actually is. All of these breeds as well as many others (including Great Danes, Newfoundlands and Rottweilers) are members of the Molosser family of dog breeds.

Ross: You know, sometimes your words, they hurt.

Joey: Hey eh...where do you guys want this?

Rachel: Yeah...seriously cuz this is really heavy. (She suddenly lets go.) I mean not for me because I'm only pretending to hold this, but for these guys.

let go v. 放开

Phoebe: Just one last time erm...the marriage thing...there's no wiggle room? None at all?

wiggle v. 踌躇 摆动/wiggle room n. <美口>回旋或调整的余地

Mike: No but... You don't want to get married either right?

Phoebe: Right. Except that I do want to get married.

except that adv. 只可惜

Joey: (voice strained.) Couldn't have this conversation down at the truck huh?

strained adj. 紧张的

Mike: You...wanna get married?

Phoebe: Someday.

Chandler: Aaaaand...hernia.

hernia n. <医>疝气

Phoebe: I haven't exactly had a normal life and I never really felt I was missing out on anything but it just feels that now it's my turn to have some of the regular stuff.

miss out on sth v. 错过

Mike: But if you wanna get married why didn't you say something before?

Phoebe: Because I just didn't know how much I wanted it. And I love you, and I wanted to live with you.

Mike: I want to live with you too! Let's do that!

Phoebe: But I don't think I can! It was OK to move in when I didn't know what was gonna happen, but I can't move in knowing that nothing is ever gonna happen.

Monica 'I said to bring the cushions up first, but noooooo!

Mike: Can we at least try living together? I mean you might change your mind about marriage.

Phoebe: Are you gonna change yours?

Mike: No.

Phoebe: Me neither. I think I need to be with someone who wants what I want.

Mike: But I don't want this to end.

Phoebe: I don't want it to end either.

Mike: I can't believe this is gonna end. I guess I'll have my stuff packed up.

Phoebe: Yeah.

Mike: Ok... so. (They embrace.) Goodbye.

Everyone: Bye bye Mike! See ya Mike.

Rachel: I'm so sorry Phoebs.

Monica: We're all sorry. (They hug.)

Chandler: Ah...look on the bright side...I mean you won't have to live with this ugly chair! That was here already huh? I love you. (they hug again.)

look on the bright side v. 对事物抱乐观态度
